

Deceased Foster Rabbit Procedure

If a rabbit in foster care passes away, the medical and foster committees should be notified immediately. If you don't know cause of death, you should consider a necropsy.

Options for the care of the remains include:

- 1- Burial.
- 2- General cremation or pet cemetery burial at an affiliated veterinary hospital with cost covered by HRN.
- 3- Private cremation at the cost of the foster parent wishing to have the ashes returned.